

Investment focus and suitability

The aim of the LYRA fund is to increase capital over the long term while limiting risk with a suitable diversification within the limits of the restrictions established by law. The fund invests in different instruments, including small and mid-cap companies with their headquarters in the main European countries, fixed interest securities and money market instruments. The fund can use financial derivative instruments (Derivatives) for efficient portfolio management, both for hedging purposes and actively managing security investments. Individual securities, types of investments and currencies may be selected and screened, and the actual investment strategy directed, on an opportunistic basis.

Past performance is not an indicator of current or future trends. The performance values refer to the net asset value and are calculated without the commission and costs incurred on issue, redemption or swapping (e.g. transaction and custody costs of the investor). The indications are based on figures denominated in EUR. If this currency is different from the currency of the country in which the investor is resident, the return may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations.

Opportunities

The fund invests in a broadly diversified investment universe and seeks opportunities for returns wherever they exist.

A highly qualified and experienced management actively manages the fund on the basis of a fundamental valuation approach. The objective is to identify the potential investments that, in the Investment manager's opinion, are attractive and could generate positive opportunities for investors.

Risks

The fund invests in equities and bonds, which may be subject to significant fluctuations in value. Bonds are subject to issuer risk, credit risk and interest rate risk.

Capital at risk. All financial investments involve an element of risk. Therefore, the value of the investment and the income from it will vary and the initial investment amount cannot be guaranteed.
